INDIANS TO MEET SPIDERS HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Game, Judging by Comparative Scores and Intense Rivalry, Should be Hard Fought

Locals Working to Equal 1921 Record

Defeated Westhamptonites Decisively Twice Last Year And Hope to Repeat

Tomorrow night on Jefferson Court the Indians will engage in battle with the quint of the University of Richmond. Besides the intense rivalry entering into the game which will make it a hotly contested one, comparative scores indicate that the two fives are evenly matched, with perhaps the favor leaning a shade toward the visitors.

Word from Westhampton is to the effect that the Spiders are leaving no stone unturned to be in the best of shape for the conflict, which is regarded here, as well as there, as the biggest and most important game on the respective schedules.

Coach Driver, after giving his proteges two days of rest last week, has had them out every day this week for intensive practice, and if they are in form, they will give the Spiders plenty of work.

In 1920 the Spiders won from the Indians in football, only to have the local athletes turn on them and defeat them decisively in basketball and baseball. Again in 1921 the Spiders have emerged triumphant on the gridiron, and the game tomorrow will decide whether the Indians will duplicate this year as they did last.

The biggest crowd of the year will turn out in all probability for the game, and according to reports, the Monogram Club will stage a subscription dance in the gymnasium directly after the fracas, with the Jolly Jazzers, of Newport News, furnishing the music. The Dobsonites will be invited guests.

Trinkle Took His Office February 1

The feature of the inauguration of Hon. E. Lee Trinkle as Governor of the State of Virginia succeeding Hon. Westmoreland Davis, held in the capital city Wednesday, was the presence of six former Governors of the State. Spectacular military parades of units of the First Infantry, Virginia National Guard, added brilliantly to the occasion.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the college, attended the inaugural ceremonies.

Athenians Better Governed Than U.S.

J. Elliot Heath Makes Statement in Delivering Second of Marshall-Wythe Lectures

That the government of ancient Athens under Cloisthenes was more democratic than is the government of the United States today, was declared by J. Elliot Heath, of Norfolk, in the second of the seventeen Marshall-Wythe Lectures to be delivered at the College of William and Mary under the sponsorship of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship.

In Athens, the speaker said, the government was of all the people, who appeared themselves at councils, and were not represented, as is the case here and in England, Government of such a kind was more feasible in Athens than it would be here. Mr. Heath added, because the territory of Athens was not so great as that of this country.

The legislative branch of Greek government was by the "agenda," or assembly; and the people of that day "looked on the laws of Solon very much as we in this country formerly looked on the Constitution of the United States—as something which did not need amendment," Mr. Heath asserted.

The Athenian government also had an executive and judicial branch in its makeup, he stated, and both forms were of the highest degree of democracy. All acts of the executive branch were subjected to the approval of the people, while the judicial side of the

Snow Brings Joy To Students Here

Last Week-End Featured by the Heaviest Snow Fall Here in Many Years

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were glorious days for the students. A heavy snow began falling at 7:30 Friday morning and soon had the campus covered under a white carpet several inches thick. On Saturday the northeast wind and the snow had not abated, and late Saturday afternoon the storm here was the worst in many years. It was impossible to see over fifty yards, with any degree of clearness.

Sunday morning sleighing, snowballing, and the other varied forms of winter sport were indulged in by many of the students. The snow was still on the ground Tuesday, although melting fast.

Hughes to Deliver Third of Lectures

Well Known and Beloved Alumnus to Talk of Early Roman Types of Law

The third of the constitutional lectures being given under the sponsorship of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship will be delivered tomorrow by Dr. Robert M. Hughes, of Norfolk, former Rector of the Board of Visitors of the college, a distinguished lawyer of the seaside city, and one of the college's most loyal alumni.

Mr. Hughes will address the students, faculty and public, having as his subject the Early Roman Types of Law, and the Mediaeval Italian Governments. This lecture will continue the study of government from the early days of history down to the adoption of the Federal Constitution. J. Elliot Heath, of Norfolk, lectured January 21 on the Greek Constitutional Government.

Many people from within a hundred mile radius of the college have signified their intention of attending some of the lectures.

It is probable that Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, President Emeritus of the college, will deliver one of the lectures in the near future.

The time of the lecture tomorrow will be announced later.

Governor Brough Lectures on Lee

Former Chief Executive of Arkansas Pays Eloquent Tribute to Confederate Leader

Memorial exercises were held January 21 at the College of William and Mary for General Robert E. Lee, with Charles Hillman Brough, of Little Rock, Arkansas, former Governor of that State, and present President of the Good Roads Association of America, as the speaker.

The address of ex-Governor Brough was learned and eloquent, and was received with enthusiasm by the students and faculty. He paid high tribute to the memory of the "South's noblest son."

Lee's war career was a miracle of military history, the speaker stated, and his leadership of the South has done more for the majesty of the Federal Union than any other one thing. He said that when Marshal Foch was

QUARTER SYSTEM HERE NEXT YEAR

To Replace Old Semester Plan—College Year Divided Into Fourths

Beginning next September 21, with the opening of college on that date, college terms will be on the quarter instead of the semester basis, as has been the usage of the college for many years.

The entire year will be divided into quarters, as follows:

Fall Quarter, begins September 21; ends December 21.

Winter Quarter, begins January 3; ends March 23.

Spring Quarter, begins March 27; ends June 9.

Summer Quarter, begins June 13; ends September 1.

This general scheme will be followed in succeeding years.

In this forward step the college is lining up alongside the up-to-date colleges and universities of the country, practically all of whom have adopted the plan.

Courses now running in one term of four and a half months will be made more intensive, and will run for one quarter, of three months. Courses now running for the entire session of two terms, or semesters, will next year run for two quarters.

Students here for over a year have been asking for the adoption of the Quarter System, as it makes everything—except perhaps study—easier for them. They have greeted the announcement of the change with enthusiasm.

State Legislature Visits University

Welcomed by President Alderman—Responses Made by Representative Henley and Senator Mapp

Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 21.—For the first time in its century of history the University of Virginia was visited by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth. The party arrived at Charlottesville on a special train at noon and was composed of about 100 members of the Assembly, twenty-five of whom were accompanied by their wives, and a number of Capitol officials, including the pages.

President Alderman briefly welcomed the visitors and introduced Representative Norvell L. Henley, who responded happily for the House. The students gave "three long rays for the House."

C. Walter Mapp, of Acomac, replied to the welcome for the Senate. The students gave a hearty "wah-who-wah for the Senate," and sang "The Good Old Song."

FLAT HAT COMMENCES TWO USEFUL COLUMNS

In order to more effectively serve the students and faculty, beginning with next week the Flat Hat will inaugurate a "Lost and Found," and a "College Notices" column, with the service free.

Anyone desiring to advertise a lost or found article should write the notice, and put it in the Flat Hat box. In the case of notices of meetings, etc., they should be written briefly and placed in the same box. It is preferred that the notices and such matter for these two columns be typewritten when possible.

If the co-operation of the student body is secured, the two columns can be made of some value. Obviously, "notices" and queries for lost and found articles will be read by more people, and will be safer than if placed on the bulletin board, to be covered by another notice, blown off by the wind, or destroyed by practical jokers.

Material for the two columns must be in the Flat Hat box not later than Wednesday at 4 o'clock of the week which the notice, or query, should run.

Students Begin Second Semester

New Students Coming in Will Push Enrollment Past
650 for Year

Following the ending of Mid-Term examinations on Monday, students have been busy getting straight for the second term, which commenced Wednesday, February 1.

New students, including several women and a number of men, who have enrolled for the second term, indicate that the total college enrollment for the year will pass the six hundred and fifty mark.

Dr. John Garland Pollard, whose coming here was announced in a previous copy of the Flat Hat, will commence his duties here February 1, as Professor of Constitutional History and Law.

Revive Literary Fraternity Here

Local Students Reorganize the Gordon-Hope Chapter of Sigma Upsilon

The Gordon-Hope chapter of the Sigma Upsilon Fraternity, an honorary fraternity for literary accomplishments, has been reorganized at the college with a membership of ten students and instructors. The following is the roll of the chapter:

A. P. Elliott, L. W. Simmons, I. H. White, C. R. Ball, S. C. Hall, J. G. Pollard, Jr., R. E. Kennard, J. S. Jenkins, G. G. Davis, W. A. Dickinson.

The chapter holds bi-weekly meetings, at which time programs of literary character are given. Different members present, short stories, essays, biographies, and poems, which are criticised and presented to the Literary Magazine for publication.

It is hoped that the Gordon-Hope chapter will render as great a literary service to the college as it rendered before its period of inactivity.

Columbia Tries Out Examination Plan, Aimed at "Bluffer"

Student Must Discern Between True and False Statements in Test

New York.—A new type of examination for college students which affords "no chance for the bluffer to exercise his arts, and removes the examination from the category of sporting propositions," is being tried out at Columbia University.

Instead of asking a few questions on the high spots of the course and encouraging lengthy answers, the new examination consists of a large number of statements concerning matters previously gone over, some of which are true, and others false.

The student is asked to place a plus sign next to those he considers true and a minus mark beside the false. This takes up two-thirds of the examination, and the old-fashioned test occupies the remainder.

Dean Hawkes said today the tests have made far more accurate grading and that the students consider the new system fairer and more satisfactory than the old essay type.

Eustis Defeated by Indian Quint

Take Game by Score of 39 to 14 in Decidedly One-
Sided Affair

In a game which was decidedly one-sided, William and Mary defeated the quint from Camp Eustis here January 23, by a score of 39 to 14. The soldiers were unable in any way to cope with the Indians throughout the contest.

Coach Driver used seventeen men in the game. During the first half only first-line men were used, and the half ended by the visitors losing, 23 to 1. In the last half substitute players were used, and the soldiers made a much better showing.

Cooke, Peters, Pierce, and Young were the outstanding stars for William and Mary, and Nagle and Hartman took the honors for Camp Eustis.

Line-up and summary follows:

W. & M.	Pos.	C. E.
Cooke	F.	Ripphle
Pierce	F.	Hartman
Harwood	C.	Rappaport
Hicks	G.	Dillon
Young	G.	Clarke

Summary: Substitutions, W. & M.—Levvy for C. Pierce, Peters for Harwood, Hatcher for Hicks, E. Pierce for Young, Peters for Cooke, Henley for Peters, Chandler for Hatcher, Lash for Harwood, Dietz for Peters, Denton for Levvy, Cofer for Henley, Todd for E. Pierce and Burke for Chandler. Camp Eustis—Nagle for Ripphle, Hartman for Rappaport, Kissan for Hartman. Field goals—William and Mary—Cooke, 2; Levvy, C. Pierce, 3; Peters, 4; Harwood, Hicks, 4; Henley, Denton, Cofer, Camp Eustis—Nagle, 2; Hartman, 3. Goals from foul—Cooke, 2 out of 4; Levvy, 1 out of 2; Hartman, 4 out of 10. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee, Wallace, of William and Mary.

Jefferson Evens Count With Tyler

In a closely contested game on Jefferson Court Tuesday night the women's basketball sextette of Jefferson Hall won out over the team from Tyler Hall by the count of 15-10. The victory of the Jeffersonites makes the series stand one all, and the rubber contest will doubtless be staged sometime in the near future.

As was the case at the previous meeting between the two dormitory teams, the audience was a large and vociferous one.

At the outset of the game, Jefferson, by a neat bit of teamwork, succeeded in drawing first blood, and from then on led the Tylerites till the end of the contest, with a short lapse in the second period. Near the close of the game, a field goal, coupled with a number of successful foul shots, clinched the game.

Stars of the game for Jefferson were Rew, Sterling, Dixon, and Zehmer, while Chase, Whitaker, and Saunders displayed the best basketball for the Tyler team.

Indians Win Over Hampden-Sidney

William and Mary Five Driving to Better Last Year's Record

The Indians, on the rampage to beat their record of last year, turned the trick again last Thursday by defeating the Hampden-Sidney quint on the local gym by the score of 27 to 12. The game was a good one and all through the first half the game was almost an even break for the two quints. At the end of the first half the score was 7 to 6 in favor of the locals.

With the opening of the last half the locals surprised the visitors by pulling a new playing combination that completely swept the Tigers off their feet. The result of the surprise was 20 more points for the Indians and six for the visiting five. The game ended 27 to 12 in favor of William and Mary.

The stars of the game were Cooke, Hicks, Young and Peters and the rest of the players for the Indians. They all played an excellent game and clearly showed their superiority over the Hampden-Sidney five. Young, as a thriller for the evening, shot a basket from two-thirds the length of the floor, making it the third time he has done this in three years. Montgomery and Johnson played a fine game for the visitors.

Line-up and summary follows:

W. & M.	Pos.	H.-S.
Cooke (C)	R. F.	Putney
C. Pierce	L. F.	Johnson
Harwood	C.	Stoltz
Young	R. G.	Sager
Hicks	L. G.	Montgomery

Substitutes—Todd for Harwood, Peters for Pierce, Henley for Todd, Hatcher for Hicks, J. Pierce for Young, Levvy for Cooke, Carter for Stoltz, Atelior for Montgomery, Pitts for Johnson.

Field goals—Hicks, 5; Cooke, 3; Peters, 2; Todd, Sager, Putney, 2; Johnson, 2; Young.

Foul goals—Cooke, 3-5; Montgomery, 2-4.

Twenty-minute halves.

Referee—Foster, University of South Carolina.

Indians Easily Beat Preachers

Cooke Gets 8 Field and 6 Foul Goals—Todd Gets Good One

The William and Mary quint had no difficulty last Monday in disposing of the Union Theological five of Richmond, by the score of 51 to 11. The preachers missed a number of field shots, not being so adept at this as were the locals.

Coach Driver used three teams against the visitors, the varsity leaving the contest at the end of the first half with the score 32-7. In the second half the scrubs and third team held the visitors safe, and incidentally added quite a bit to the score. The feature of the second half was a shot two-thirds the length of the floor by Todd.

Cooke starred for the Indians, with 8 goals from the floor and six successful shots out of seven tries from the fifteen foot mark. Pierce and Young also played a good game for William and Mary.

Alexander and Craig gave the best exhibition for the visitors.

Line-up and summary follows:

W. & M.	Pos.	U. T. S.
Cooke (C)	R. F.	Alexander (C)
C. Pierce	L. F.	Moore
Harwood	C.	Richardson
Young	R. G.	Patterson
Hicks	L. G.	A. R. Craig

Summary: Substitutions—W. & M., Peters for Harwood, Hatcher for Hicks, Pierce, E., for Young, Henley for Peters, Peters for Cooke, Levvy for C. Pierce, Dietz for Peters, Chandler for Levvy, Cofer for Henley, Todd for E. Pierce, Burke for Hatcher, Cooke for Dietz, C. Pierce for Chandler, Harwood for Cofer, Young for Todd, Hicks for Burke. U. T. S., Craig for Moore.

Field goals—Cooke, 8; Pierce, 4; Hicks, 4; Harwood, Todd, Dietz, Peters, Levvy, Burke, Alexander, Richardson, Craig, 2.

Goals from foul—Cooke, 6 in 7; Levvy, 1 in 2; Craig, 3 in 6.

Time of halves—20 minutes.

Referee—Wallace, W. & M.

From A Faint Blue Glow To Modern Miracles

EDISON saw it first—a mere shadow of blue light streaking across the terminals inside an imperfect electric lamp. This "leak" of electric current, an obstacle to lamp perfection, was soon banished by removing more air from the bulbs.

But the ghostly light, and its mysterious disappearance in a high vacuum remained unexplained for years.

Then J. J. Thomson established the electron theory on the transmission of electricity in a partial vacuum—and the blue light was understood. In a very high vacuum, however, the light and apparently the currents that caused it disappeared.

One day, however, a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company proved that a current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum, and could be varied according to fixed laws. But the phantom light had vanished.

Here was a new and definite phenomenon—a basis for further research.

Immediately, scientists began a series of experiments with far reaching practical results. A new type of X-ray tube, known as the Coolidge tube, soon gave a great impetus to the art of surgery. The Kenotron and Pliotron, followed in quick succession by the Dynatron and Magnetron, made possible long distance radio telephony and revolutionized radio telegraphy. And the usefulness of the "tron" family has only begun.

The troublesome little blue glow was banished nearly forty years ago. But for scientific research, it would have been forgotten. Yet there is hardly a man, woman or child in the country today whose life has not been benefited, directly or indirectly, by the results of the scientific investigations that followed.

Thus it is that persistent organized research gives man new tools, makes available forces that otherwise might remain unknown for centuries.

CONGRATULATIONS, MR. TRINKLE

Congratulations to Virginia's new governor! May his administration be as successful as his election was auspicious. To the retiring Governor we extend our best wishes for a life as useful to the State and Nation as has been his brilliant administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth of Virginia for the past four years.

GO GET 'EM, INJUNS!

It's up to the Indians to take the sting out of the Spiders. The Richmond Collegian has taken exception to the number of students attending basketball games there; let's show them how many we can turn out here. Everybody out with plenty of lozenges, and strain those lungs.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GET BUSY

Now, more so than any other for obvious reasons, is the time to begin studying for Final Examinations in June. Only with a clear knowledge of the fundamentals of a course can one hope to emerge with a passing grade after the Final Examination.

USE THE FLAT HAT

We hope that our readers will see fit to make use of the "Lost and Found" and the "College Notices" columns to be inaugurated in the Flat Hat next week. It will prove far more successful than announcements in dining hall, or on the bulletin board, otherwise the plan would not have been adopted. Remember, all the students, and most of the faculty subscribe to the Flat Hat, and quite a number of these read it. The best advertising is that which reaches the most readers.

THEY MEANT ACKISS

We have heard many people make fun of the cognomen of this paper, but none were so rich as an advertising firm which wrote us and addressed the letter to "The Flat Head." Fortunately, it was for the business department!

Wasn't it a pity the snow and exams came at the same time.

THE FLAT HAT AGREES ABSOLUTELY

We now have a splendid basketball court and a team that we are very proud of; but we do not want to "break up" that old quint. Sooner or later, unless something is done, some one will break his head on the brick chimney at the east goal. Let's cover that chimney, during games, with a mat. We have several. The boys need the protection, and if somebody gets "hard" the chimney may do likewise.

—E. B. M.

REPETITION

We take this opportunity of repeating a paragraph from the Flat Hat of December 16, as follows:

"After seeing the game Thursday night, we were more than ever impressed with the need of a men's gymnasium here at William and Mary. At least one of regulation size, with seating capacity for an audience of eight hundred, is needed. The State has done well for the women, but what of the men students? They are the ones most in need of suitable athletic facilities."

Phoenix Society Holds Elections

The Phoenix Literary Society held its semi-annual election Friday, January 13th, in the society hall. The following officers were elected:

O. H. Fulcher, President; J. G. Polard, Jr., Vice-President; A. J. Winder, Secretary; F. R. White, Sergeant-at-Arms; W. J. Reed, Literary and Parliamentary Critic; W. H. Hoskins, Chairman of Executive Committee; David George, Chaplain.

After the election and program the Philomathean and Phoenix Literary Societies called a joint-meeting to discuss the policy of the debating council for the year. After a spirited argument for and against giving the women's literary societies representation on the debate council and on the debating teams, it was decided that the two women's literary societies should have one representative each on the debating council, but no representative on the debating teams. It was decided, however, that the debate council would co-operate with the women's literary societies in arranging debates with Westhampton, Sweet Briar and other women's colleges. This policy was put forth by the President of the debate council.

PUPILS' MARKS DEPEND ON GRADER'S DIGESTION

Tests by Experts Yield Astonishing Results

New York.—Grades handed out to high school and college students on their final examinations frequently depend more on the temper, digestion and immediate comfort of the grader than on the contents of their examination papers, Ben C. Wood, assistant to Dean Hawkes of Columbia University, declared in a report on examination research work conducted at the university.

He cited the case of one examination paper, graded as a test by 114 teachers. It received marks all the way from 28 to 92 per cent. Another paper, graded by 142 teachers, showed a difference of opinion ranging from 64 to 98 per cent.

The old type of examination, he declared, has been found archaic and unfair and must be thrown overboard. In its place, he urged substitution of a "method which takes account of the principles of mental measurement, and which makes use of modern technical devices."

STUDENT MISCONDUCT STIRS UP BIG SCHOOL

Eighty Masked Young Men Forced Doors of Co-Eds' Hall

St. Paul, Minn.—There's a mighty stir in the staid Methodist halls of Hamline University.

Eighty young men, clad in pajamas and wearing masks, forced their way into Goheen Hall, which houses 150 fair co-eds. It was bedtime.

Co-eds shrieked and sought shelter from the rays of flashlights carried by the young raiders. What they said was nothing to what Miss Ruth Immel, dean of women, said when the boys forced the door and rushed past her.

The student council has started an investigation, but—pajamas are mostly alike and so were the masks.

CHANGE NAME OF CLUB MEMORY OF DR. GRIMES

Very important action was taken in changing the name of the club from the John Clayton Biological Club to the Clayton-Grimes Biological Club at a recent meeting of that society, the change being made in honor of the late Prof. E. J. Grimes. Professor Grimes had already given indications of a most brilliant future in the study of Virginia botany, and it was most fitting that the club which he helped to organize should be given his name.

At this meeting Miss Katharine Scott gave a review of a book entitled "Optimistic Medicine." This was followed by a talk by E. A. Hopkins on the method of getting and injecting pig embryos for dissecting purposes. Mr. Hopkins, in his talk, gave an account of his recent trip to Richmond to Kingan & Co.'s slaughter house.

RUTGERS WANTS GAME

Coach Driver received Tuesday from Rutgers College the offer of a game to be played in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on October 21st. This is concrete evidence of the fact that the Indian athletic teams are coming into notice above the Mason-Dixon line.

Unfortunately, the William and Mary schedule is filled, and the offer was necessarily declined.

OUR ADVERTISERS

We recommend to the patronage of William and Mary students the firms whose advertisements appear in The Flat Hat. Care has been taken to admit no advertisement except firms in every way reliable and trustworthy, and students dealing with the houses advertised are sure to find their treatment both courteous and satisfactory.

With The Poets and Wags

AN OFT REPEATED QUERY

Of course we all quite understand
Why eve wore her hair so long,
And why Sampson thought it simply grand
To be so big and strong.

How Delilah vamped this man,
And put his strength to route,
By shearing off each golden strand;
All this we know about.

But here is one we don't quite see,
What has caused the rage,
For clipping dresses at the knee,
And the hideous, bobbed-hair craze!
—H. T. M.

NOTHING PERSONAL

Duc: "Sorry, Mr. Bridges, I was detained at home a couple of days on account of business."

Mr. Bridges: "So you wanted a day or so of grace, eh?"

Duc: "No, sir; Marjorie."

THE MYSTIC THREE

There are three words, the sweetest words,

In all the human speech—

More sweet than are all songs of birds,

Or pages poets preach.

This life may be a vale of tears,

A sad and dreary thing—

Three words and trouble disappears

And birds begin to sing.

Three words, and all the roses bloom,

The sun begins to shine;

Three words will dissipate the gloom

And water turn to wine.

Three words will cheer the saddest days—

"I love you!" Wrong, by heck!

It's another, sweeter phrase,

"Enclosed—find—check."

—Brown Jug.

BALDNESS

The more a man's head gets to look like an egg, the more responsive he becomes to the influence of a chicken.

LINE TO A MUSTACHE TO BE SACRIFICED

Farewell, fond sprig!
May thy ghost sleep sweetly
As the dark porter sweeps
Thy scattered strands into oblivion.
For the last time I gaze
With pride and half apology
On the fine and tumbled ranks—
Tomorrow shall my face be clear
And barren—as it was when I got it;
Once I had fond hopes,
But thou hast loitered,
And off must needs be shorn,
Even though it breaks my heart:
Good-bye, little sprig,—
I loved thee.

—Collegiate World.

IN THE BALANCE

He knelt before her, his eyes upraised. She looked down into their molten depths, and quivered; none can know the pain she was then suffering. She struggled to hide it, but felt that it was in vain.

He was still kneeling.

"You will?" he said. "The price is not too much to pay."

She felt herself fascinated; she looked down, sighed.

"No," she said.

"Ah!"

"No I simply cannot take these sheos."

—The Sun Dial.

SAND

I've braved the rain of cartridges

And bursting shrapnel too.

I've often stood in the subway rush

As many plebians do.

I've danced with girls who could not dance

And managed to survive.

I've worked by the light of the midnight oil

And still come out alive.

But further in my history

I'm not inclined to delve;

Yet the one thing that I cannot stand

Is that Saturday class at twelve.

TEDDY BEE.—The Spectator.

"Oh Spence, please don't; you are mussing my hair!"

Nevertheless Spence kept right on, on the ground that if he mussed he must.

members of the Legislature, State officers, and their wives were the guests of William and Mary on January 14, on the occasion of the formal opening of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship.

Representative Henley and Senator Mapp, both of whom responded to the welcome of President Alderman, of the University, are William and Mary alumni.

a professor of military tactics in the French army college the generalissimo of the allied armies taught the methods of General Lee and those of Napoleon as models of military science.

Lee was at the same time a conservative man, the former governor said, and he cited Lee's acceptance of the Presidency of Washington college, now Washington and Lee University, at the close of the war, instead of the better paying positions that were offered him. Lee regarded his paramount duty to the South as the education of its youth, ex-Governor Brough said.

In the course of his address the speaker asserted that Jefferson, Lincoln, and Woodrow Wilson, although they were of different political beliefs, were at the same time the three greatest democrats in the history of this country. They were all three near the people, he said, and were each in turn repudiated by their countrymen on some great national issue, only to be vindicated in the end. Woodrow Wilson received the benediction of General Lee when the recent President was a boy, the speaker said.

ATHENIANS BETTER GOVERNED THAN U. S.

government granted personal liberty more extensively than is granted today by Caucasian governments. Their jury system, Mr. Heath stated, was far more popular than the system used in England and this country.

History, Mr. Heath said, declared that the constitutional government of Athens was of, by, and for the people, being as democratic in practice as it was in theory.

In conclusion, Mr. Heath said that the government of Athens has had its counterpart in the history of Elizabethan England, and in Revolutionary Virginia.

He said: "Here, at this ancient capital, hallowed by the memories of those days—here, above all the other places in this land, it is fit that there should be established this school of constitutional law and government. It was on this spot, more than at Boston or at Philadelphia that this nation had its birth. Perhaps, in the days to come, it will owe its preservation to an Anglo-Saxon land—a land of English speech and of English and American law—to those who shall here and at other old institutions, hand on to the generations that shall come after us the traditions, the beliefs, the principles and the ideals, which for a thousand years have been the common heritage of our race."

Pictures at the Palace Next Week

SHOWS AT 4, 7, 8:30 P. M.

MONDAY

Elsie Ferguson, who is the star of the screen drama, "Footlights," starred in the stage version of the play as well. On both the legitimate stage and before the silver sheet her work in this play has been pronounced by critics to be better than any she has previously done. The screen and stage version of "Footlights" both were staged in New York for long runs. The story concerns life on the stage.

TUESDAY

"Babe" Ruth, the idol of every American sportsman, comes to the Palace Theatre Tuesday in the sensational six-part super-feature cinemadrama, "Headin' Home" and he brings a record of having shattered all attendance figures at the spacious Madison Square Garden in New York City.

"Babe" Ruth as a motion picture star is indeed a treat for film and baseball fans.

WEDNESDAY

Jean Paige, one of the most popular of the younger stars, has the principal role in the big special production, "Black Beauty," which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Wednesday. The film is unique in many respects and is filled with spectacular scenes. The fox hunt, the fire in the stables, the storm that washed the bridge away, the grand ballroom scene and the race between horse and locomotive are some of the big moments in the picture.

THURSDAY

One of the week's best offerings at the Palace will be the play, "Beyond," starring Ethel Clayton, well known to all lovers of the shadow stage. The story of the play is an interesting one, and Miss Clayton, supported by a brilliant cast, makes the acting admirable.

FRIDAY

For Friday the management of the Palace has secured the first of Clara Kimball Young's new pictures, "What No Man Knows." The play is one of a woman's fight for recognition in a contest to better the living conditions of children in a great city. Miss Young, who has never done better acting in her career than in this picture, is supported by an excellent cast.

SATURDAY

Bert Lytell, in his newest Metro starring vehicle, "The Idle Rich," adapted by June Mathis from the Saturday Evening Post story by Kenneth Harris, plays three roles, representing three generations of the Weatherbee family of California—grandfather, father and son.

"It's a dizzy arrangement, but I've enjoyed it more than anything I've done in many a day," said Mr. Lytell. "I like particularly to get togged out in the tight, gaitered trousers, figure-fitting frock coat, frilled shirt, trick collar and beaver hat of the early days of the settlement of the Golden West."
